At the time of writing, 2019 definitely feels like a world The continued growth of Women Win enabled us to away. Reflecting back to early last year, we marvel at what has come to pass. Many important 2019 milestones prepared us for today. good progress in that direction: On 1 January 2019, we finalised our merger with Win-Win Strategies (WWS), strengthening our shared vision of a future where every woman and girl exercises her rights. Throughout the year, we worked to consolidate our operations, teams and strategic approaches. At the same time, we sought to maintain the unique and niche expertise areas of our two distinct work streams. Over the course of the year, we were delighted to find that the anticipated mutual benefits of merging did indeed far outweigh the minor glitches and hiccups inevitable in the process of consolidating two independent organisations.

2019 also saw continued growth for Women Win as we consolidated our identity as a global multi-dimensional women's fund. We diversified our portfolio of funding partners, and mobilised more resources than ever before, including securing a five-year funding stream from the Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs to support the expansion and contextualisation of WWS programmatic offerings. This work will be critical in the great correction needed across sectors to achieve greater levels of gender equity.

re-grant funds to the greatest number of local partof new approaches and find ways to reach a much

During 2019 we launched several initiatives that show

- The inaugural ONSIDE convening brought feminists from across sectors together in one space to connect with each other and explore approaches to (collaboratively) progressing gender justice in sport.
- We embarked on a cross-sector partnership in East Africa to improve the conditions for women working in the floriculture and garment sectors.
- With several partners in Kenya we launched Secure Futures, a program that creates safe spaces for informal settlements where they can benefit from sports, life skills and livelihoods activities.
- Together with partners in Myanmar we co-designed a new program to reach female factory workers with life skills education and financial literacy.
- We began a new program in Europe with Skateistan to build a community of "ROLL Models", young and equitable.

We continued to grow and expand our re-granting portfolio of women's funds and rights organisations working at national and local level to address gender inequity globally.

The diversity of these approaches, together with the commitments we have made as an organisation to learning, localisation, innovation and openness to failure, are serving us well in the uncertain landscape of 2020.

In 2019 we also embarked on an internal process of decolonisation, which we believe is essential to our individual and organisational integrity and relevance. While we are on this journey, we are completely committed to continue questioning our ways of working and to acknowledge our biases, prejudices and limitations openly and honestly. We welcome the support and accompaniment of our ecosystem of partners in this complex work.

We acknowledge, now more than ever, that we still have much to learn and sometimes we will fail. We believe that if we are not failing, we are not trying hard enough, and we commit to ensuring that our failures are successful failures. Rest assured that in these challenging times, our steadfast commitment to Women Win's values, to our partners and the girls and women with whom we work is greater than ever.

Impact Case Study. We Can Change Our Destiny

Women Win's partnership with Standard Chartered Bank for the Goal Program continued to expand in 2019, reaching 101,189 girls in 23 countries. After more than 10 years of Goal, Women Win and the Overseas Development Institute conducted an impact evaluation of the program together with partners.

The evaluation report, 'We can change our destiny' demonstrated that girls benefit significantly from a breadth of positive impacts related to confidence, aspirational mind-set, sexual and reproductive health, education, financial knowledge and ability to resist gender-based violence. The research confirms our long-held belief that quality girls' sports programming tangibly changes the way girls see themselves and the ambitions they have for their lives.

The Theory of Change

Women Win's vision for a future where all girls and women exercise their rights is certainly not the world that we see today. In a context of increasing inequality and complex layers of uncertainty, much remains to be done. Girls and women, particularly in the global south, face multiple obstacles that prevent them from exercising their rights.

Progress on Sustainable Development Goal 5 (SDG5) – Achieve gender equality and empower all women and girls – has been reported as insufficient in 2019. Too many girls still suffer from early marriage, female genital mutilation, forced sex and other forms of violence. Girls and women continue to carry the burden of unpaid labour and care work around the globe while over 2.7 billion women globally are legally restricted from having the same choice of jobs as men (The World Bank, 2018). Women who do enter the workforce are subject to violence, sexual harassment, discrimination and wage inequality.

Moreover, insufficient progress on structural issues at the root of gender inequality, such as legal discrimination, unfair social norms and attitudes, decision-making on sexual and reproductive issues and low levels of political participation, are undermining the ability to achieve SDG5. Women Win aims to address many of these issues in our work.

Women Win's theory of change is a map that illustrates how Women Win's work can advance girls' rights through sport and, in turn, sustainably improve gender equity. Find out more about the need for Women Win's work and why we use sport and play as our key strategy.

It is also increasingly recognised that without accelerated progress on SDG5, and without a strong focus on collaboration and partnerships, the SDG's will not be achieved. Our approach to collaboration and cross-sector partnerships reflects this need. Win-Win Strategies is working to catalyse a transformative, cross-sectoral approach to sustained women's economic empowerment. We work with companies, women's funds, social justice organisations, governments and others to strengthen investment and develop practical and holistic solutions in support of a world where every woman and girl accesses safe economic opportunities. Our Organisation and Structure

Women Win and Win-Win Strategies

From 2016 until 31 December 2018, Women Win served as fiscal sponsor and operational partner for Stichting Win-Win Strategies (WWS), a Dutch non-profit founded in late 2016. The mission of WWS is to connect the power of business with the deep assets of women's funds and organisations to empower women globally.

Pursuant to an operational outsourcing agreement, Women Win has provided WWS with financial administration services, oversight of legal governance, IT and website support, customer relationship management and programmatic support. Women Win's arrangements with WWS has provided both organisations with an ability to enhance their missions and impact. Economic empowerment and leadership of women and girls is central to the work of both Women Win and Win-Win Strategies.

On 1 January 2019, after a year of planning, Women Win and Win-Win Strategies merged into one organisation with two distinct brands, strengthening our shared vision of a future where every woman and girl exercises her rights. Throughout the year, we worked to consolidate our operations, teams and strategic approaches. At the same time, we sought to maintain the unique and niche expertise areas of our two distinct work streams. Over the course of the year, we were delighted to find that the anticipated mutual benefits of merging did indeed far outweigh the minor glitches and hiccups inevitable in the process of consolidating two independent organisations.

Freelancers

Women Win uses a number of individuals based in the Netherlands as well as other countries to provide services related to specific project initiatives that we are actively engaged in. Individuals performing these services are treated as independent contractors / consultants, as they are neither a resident, nor national of the Netherlands.

Pension

Women Win pays premiums based on legal requirements, contractual and voluntary basis to pension funds and insurance companies. The pension plan is currently held with Zwitzerleven, and in December of 2017 the plan was renewed for a period of five years, with an effective date of 1 January 2018 until 31 December 2022.

Premiums are recognised as personnel costs when they are due. Prepaid contributions are recognised as deferred assets if these lead to a refund or reduction of future payments. Contributions that are due but have not been paid yet are presented as a liability.

Expectations

We will work to continue to attract a diversified group of funders who can provide flexible funding to Women Win Looking at 2020 and beyond, Women Win is still very during the crisis and pledge to support Women Win as optimistic about the future. We have set a fundraising target of € 4,600,000 for 2020 and will continue to build diversified long-term of Women Win and Win-Win Strategies. The combined forces of the two independent organisations will allow us to better navigate a rapidly changing environment

Whilst Women Win is not anticipating any major reduction in its overall budget for 2020, due to the confidence we have on meeting its revenue projections, we will, nevertheless, be reducing the 2020 budget by 5%. These reductions will primarily come out of the line items identified: program field work, program consultants and travel. It should be noted that expenses might be reduced further if funder restrictions cannot be met and grant/contract funds cannot be released/spent as planned.

Women Win will limit its investments to necessary replacements of assets until it has clarity as to when government measures will end and business activity will improve. Women Win does not currently intend to reduce its workforce. However, if the Covid-19 pandemic continues on a global level for a longer period,

Whether revenues and profitability will improve in the remainder of 2020 is dependent on the period during which the regions in which we operate are exposed to Covid-19 and the extent to which government measures may be prolonged, expanded or scaled down.

General Risks

Women Win is impacted by the Covid-19 crisis, but with planning, the risk can be mitigated. As explained in notes to the balance sheet and income statement in the subsequent events paragraph, the Covid-19 outbreak and resulting measures taken by various governments to contain the virus have already significantly affected our operations (e.g. working from home, travel restrictions, etc.), but the impact our financial results have been limited in the first 6 months of 2020.

From a larger perspective the crisis has impact on the funding community by shifting funding priorities towards programmes that more directly address the health and economic crisis. Additionally, there may be a long-term decline in available funding due to the length and severity of the expected economic recession and the impact it will have on private foundations assets, government funding, and corporate profits.

To mitigate this, Women Win has already reached out to our funders in a systematic approach securing funds and repurposing funds to our continuity reserve that we can draw on if the current situation persists.

Women Win is relative dependent on one major donor. Although, the funding is very much appreciated, the dependent relationship also has a financial risk factor on continuity. A large part for 2020 is already committed, but for the longer-term Women Win seeks to broaden its base-of-support with more multi-year commitments and develop a plan to transition away from being so heavily reliant on one donor.

Due to the Covid-19 situation Women Win has a risk on not being able to meet the restrictions/conditions placed on much of the restricted funds received in 2019 or receivable in 2020. We are actively engaged in conversations with our funders about lessening and shifting some of its restricted funding in order to be able to respond to the needs of our partners and program participants during the crisis. Women Win has been successful in negotiating with all of our funders to re-appropriate budgets and funding to assist with humanitarian needs where necessary, technology deployment to assist in the virtual delivery of our programmes, lessoning the restrictions on restricted funds in order to achieve organisational and financial resilience and allowance of funds to be moved to an unrestricted continuity reserve in order to ensure the survival of Women Win and its implementing partner should the crisis continue long-term.

Database

Since the inception of Women Win, innovation and technology have played a key role in delivering our long-term strategy and growth. We operate a number of systems in the organisation which are cloud-based, data driven.

Since 2010, Women Win has deployed a customer relationship management system (CRM) called Salesforce for facilitating grant making administration, donor management, monitoring and evaluation tools and data storage, resource mobilisation (fundraising) as well as a number of other internal processes.

In addition to Salesforce, Women Win has integrated other world-class cloud-based software and databases into the organisation, such as QuickBooks for financial management, SRXP for digital expense reporting, Box for file management and collaboration, Zoho People for human resource management, DocuSign for contract management and Keeper for password management. All systems are backed-up daily, redundant and GDPR compliant.

Reserve and Funds

The continuity reserve consists of freely disposable capital, whilst the earmarked funds consist of donor-designated funds.

Continuity Reserve

The continuity reserve has been drawn up to cover risks in the short term and to ensure that Women Win can meet its obligations in the future. The freely disposable capital provides security for the continuity of the organisation. Women Win's policy is to maintain sufficient, freely available capital to cover the operational costs of the organisation for at least six months.

For the determination of the size of the continuity reserve, Women Win follows the guidelines of Charities Netherlands (Goede Doelen Nederland, previously known as the Dutch Fundraising Institutions Association (VFI). The guidelines allow for a maximum reservation of 1.5 times the cost of the operational organisation. The operational organisation is defined according to the VFI code as cost own staff (for the recruitment as well as the execution of the objectives), housing costs, office and administration cost on behalf of the organisation, management costs, costs for fundraising as well as the costs of out-sourced services concerning the above mentioned posts.

Women Win is not a member of Goede Doelen Netherlands. However, we can confirm that our continuity reserve falls within the range given in the Goede Doelen Netherlands guidance for reserves.

Earmarked Funds

Earmarked funds, including donor advised funds, are funds that are allocated to specific activities and/or purpose in the future. When third parties, thus not Women Win, have given specific destinations and/or purpose to their funds, an earmark fund is created on behalf of the third party. Earmarked funds that have not been used during the financial year are transferred to the next year.

Risk Management

Potential Impact of Covid-19 on Our Business

In addition to the already known effects, the macroeconomic uncertainty causes disruption to economic activity and it is unknown what the longer-term impact on our business may be. The scale and duration of this pandemic remain uncertain but are expected to further impact our business model in the coming years. The main risks that result from the current uncertain situation regarding Covid-19 are:

- Covid-19 has the potential to impact the financial positions of Women Win and its implementing partners. The crisis will greatly impact the "Girls' Win" program, which relies on face-to-face trainings and group gatherings, and will require Women Win and its implementing partners to seek new creative and innovative ways to deliver programmes. We are actively engaged and have been successful in conversations with our funders about lessening and shifting some of its restricted funding in order to be able to respond to the needs of our partners and program participants during the crisis. In addition, Women Win will provide online capacity building support/training to the implementing partners.
- The Crisis may impact the funding community by shifting donor priorities towards programmes that more directly address the health and economic crisis. Additionally, there may be a long-term decline in available funding due to the length and severity of the economic recession and the impact it will have on private foundations assets, government funding, and corporate profits.
- » The Crisis is creating an environment in which some foundations are being flexible with grantees, enabling them to shift their program priorities and lessen the restrictions on their funding.

Financial and Organisational Resilience

Women Win's strategy requires multi-year financial commitments. The level of income can fluctuate year by year, while multi-year obligations have to be fulfilled. Women Win deals with the risk of fluctuating income and the implications of this on the continuity of projects by:

- Diversify our income mix from multiple sources, including individual donors, companies, institutional donors and government entities;
- Optimise the availability and balance of unrestricted income versus earmarked income;
- » Strive to maintain a continuity reserve to cover at least six months of fixed operation so that activities can continue even when sources of income fluctuate;
- Recruitment of long-term, committed donors with multi-year contracts, to safeguard the mission and strategy over the long term;
- » Strict cash management with renowned banks with no exposure to stocks and/or derivatives.

Use of Funds Through

- Monitoring and evaluating Women Win's long-term strategy, annual plan and budget;
- Internal compliance to regulations, guidelines, authorisation matrixes, operating manuals, policies and procedures and master agreements;
- Routine audits of the organisation's functions, internal administration and financial condition;
- Routine audit of partners' financial accounts, as needed and/or required;
- Actively monitoring our partners for progress toward goals, key performance indicators and actual versus budget spending;
- Continuous evaluation of program results with corrective actions taken when necessary;
- » Actively encourage low-cost policies throughout the organisation and with our partners.

Women Win has gained the trust of individuals, companies, governments and other institutions that donate funds. The organisation is responsible to ensure that the funds donated are spent according to the agreed plan. Despite this, there is always the risk of fraud. Fraud can have implications on the implementation of programmes as well as Women Win's reputation and credibility.

Women Win works to reduce the risk of fraud by the following ways:

- » Monitoring compliance;
- » Segregation of duties;
- » Internal and external audits;
- » Pre-assessment of partner organisations;
- » Implementation of fraud, anti-corruption and conflict of interest policies throughout the organisation, including partner organisations.

Accountability Statement from the Board

This accountability statement from the Board of Women Win highlights the main issues relating to governance and management controls measures insofar as they impact on the achievement of the objectives of Women Win.

Women Win complies with all the laws and policies regulating non-profit organisations in the Netherlands. We aim to build systems and processes that fully support the organisation and that are ethical, transparent and in line with the values and mission of the organisation.

The Executive Director is the leader of Stichting Women Win, responsible to the Board of Directors for all actions of the organisation. She is responsible to report all information necessary and relevant for the Board of Directors decision-making in a timely manner, and to be fully transparent towards the Board of Directors with respect to matters affecting the organisation.

The Board of Directors grants a power of attorney to the Executive Director to carry out her responsibilities on behalf of Women Win. The Executive Director is responsible for leadership of the management team consisting of all directors and, directly or indirectly, for the leadership and management of all persons employed by or acting in capacity as consultants, volunteers and/or advisors to Women Win.

The responsibilities of the Executive Director are further described in the document "Executive Director Success Profile". The Executive Director is responsible for maintaining all records relating to Stichting Women Win as set out by the Board of Directors.

The Board of Directors recognises the many challenges of the organisation and they are pleased with the progress that was made during 2019, and they are confident about the future. While the fundraising environment is difficult, our planning and control is being enhanced to help offset any unforeseeable events.

Jurisdiction and Tasks of the Board of Directors and Executive Director

The by-laws of Stichting Women Win clearly state the separation of duties, tasks and roles between management and supervision. In essence: The Board of Directors supervises challenges and stimulates management, whereas management steers the organisation in the right direction. In pursuing that role, the members of the Board maintain an up-to-date overview of developments in the organisation by having regular contacts with staff members at Women Win.

Communications with Stakeholders

Through our communications, we are accountable to our stakeholders. We encourage donors and policymakers to become allies of Women Win, facilitating learning and increasing our donor giving and loyalty. In all our communications, Women Win complies with Dutch privacy legislation.

- » Partners Written agreements which include work plans, budgets and contracts, regular individual meetings, field visits and capacity building;
- » Individual donors Regular updates on progress, fundraising and spending;
- » Foundations, governments and third parties Contracts for financial collaborations, meetings, reports, impact and evaluations;

Accounting Policies Applied to the Valuation of Assets and Liabilities

Going Concern

Tangible Fixed Assets

Land and buildings are valued at historical cost plus additional costs or production cost less straight-line depreciation based on the expected useful life. Land is not depreciated. Impairments expected on the balance sheet date are taken into account. With regard to the determination as to whether a tangible fixed asset is subject to an impairment, please refer to the

For obligations to restore the asset after use (dismantling cost) a provision is recognised for the expected amount at the time of capitalisation. This amount is recognised

Impairment of Fixed Assets

On each balance sheet date, Women Win assesses whether there are any indications that a fixed asset may be subject to impairment. If there are such indications, the realisable value of the asset is determined. If it is not possible to determine the realisable value of the individual asset, the realisable value of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs is determined.

An impairment occurs when the carrying amount of an asset is higher than the realisable value; the realisable value is the higher of the fair value less cost to sell and the value in use. An impairment loss is directly recognised in the income statement while the carrying amount of the asset concerned is concurrently reduced.

The realisable value is initially based on a binding sale agreement; if there is no such agreement, the realisable value is determined based on the active market, whereby usually the prevailing bid price is taken as market price. The costs deducted in determining net realisable value are based on the estimated costs that are directly attributable to the sale and are necessary to realise the sale. For the determination of the value in use, an estimate is made of the future net cash flows in the event of continued use of the asset / cash-generating unit; these cash flows are discounted, based on a discount rate of 5%. The discount rate does not reflect risks already taken into account in future cash flows.

If it is established that an impairment that was recognised in the past no longer exists or has reduced, the increased carrying amount of the asset concerned is set no higher than the carrying amount that would have been determined if no impairment value adjustment for the asset concerned had been reported. An impairment of goodwill cannot be reversed.

Women Win assesses at each balance sheet date whether there is objective evidence that a financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired. If any such evidence exists, the impairment loss is determined and recognised in the income statement.

The amount of an impairment loss incurred on financial assets stated at amortised cost is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows, discounted at the financial asset's original effective interest rate (i.e. the effective interest rate computed at initial recognition). If, in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognised, the previously recognised impairment loss shall be reversed. The reversal shall not result in a carrying amount of the financial asset that exceeds what the amortised cost would have been had the impairment not been recognised at the date the impairment was reversed. The amount of the reversal shall be recognised through profit or loss.

If an impairment loss has been incurred on an investment in an equity instrument carried at cost, the amount of the impairment loss is measured as the difference between the carrying amount of the financial asset and the present value of estimated future cash flows discounted at the current market rate of return for a similar financial asset. The impairment loss shall be reversed only if the evidence of impairment is objectively shown to have been removed.

Accounts Receivable

Receivables are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost. If payment of the receivable is postponed under an extended payment deadline, fair value is measured on the basis of the discounted value of the expected revenues. Interest gains are recognised using the effective interest method. When a receivable is uncollectible, it is written off against the allowance account for receivables.

Cash at Banks and in Hand

Cash at banks and in hand represent cash in hand, bank balances and deposits with terms of less than twelve months. Overdrafts at banks are recognised as part of debts to lending institutions under current liabilities. Cash at banks and in hand is carried at nominal value.

Reserves and Funds

The reserves of the organisation are in place in order for the organisation to achieve its objectives. The reserves are divided into the continuity reserve and earmarked funds. The Board earmarks the reserves, whereas the third parties, corporations and sponsors earmark the funds.

The Earmarked Funds are donor commitments and funds earmarked for specific projects for the implementation of Women Win's strategies that have not yet been fully expended.

In the view of correct justification of the tied-up reserves, already at the receipt of gifts, donations and grants, the earmarking of funds for projects is taken into account. For multiyear grant commitments, Women Win reserves the full commitment in the year in which the grant is awarded and pays the grant in instalments based on approved progress reports.

The reserves and funds are spent in accordance with the designated purpose given to them with the establishment of the income.

At the end of 2019, the reserves and funds were €3,354,169 (2018: €2,329,988), including a continuity reserve of €657,619.

Covid-19

The Covid-19 outbreak has developed rapidly in 2020, with a significant number of infections. Measures taken by various governments to contain the virus have delivery of our programmes, lessoning the restrictions affected economic activity. We have taken a number of measures to monitor and prevent the effects of the Covid-19 virus such as safety and health measures for moved to an unrestricted continuity reserve in order our people (like social distancing and working from home) and securing unrestricted and repurposed funds to ensure the sustainability of our organisation as well as our partners.

results have been limited. We will continue to follow the various national institutes policies and advice and in parallel will do our utmost to continue our operations in the best and safest way possible without jeopardizing the health of our people.

Covid-19 has the potential to impact the financial positions of Women Win and its implementing partners. From an operational viewpoint the crisis could greatly impact the "Girls' Win" program, which relies on faceto-face trainings and group gatherings, and will require Women Win and its implementing partners to seek new creative and innovative ways to deliver programmes.

The crisis may impact the funding community by shifting donor priorities towards programmes that more directly address the health and economic crisis. Additionally there may be a long-term decline in available funding due to the length and severity of the economic recession and the impact it will have on private foundations assets, government funding, and corporate profits.

The crisis is creating an environment in which some foundations are being flexible with grantees, enabling them to shift their program priorities and lessen the restrictions on their funding. We will work to continue to attract a diversified group of funders who can provide flexible funding to Women Win during the crisis and pledge to support Women Win as we relaunch our on-the-ground programmes when the crisis abates. We are actively engaged in conversations with our funders about lessening and shifting some of its restricted funding in order to be able to respond to the needs of our partners and program participants during the crisis. Women Win has been successful in negotiating with all of our funders to re-appropriate budgets and

Report on the annual accounts 2019

Our opinion

In our opinion, the annual accounts of Stichting Women Win ('the foundation') give a true and fair view of the financial position of the foundation as at 31 December 2019, and of its result for the year then ended in accordance with the Guideline for annual reporting 650 'Charity organisations' of the Dutch Accounting Standards Board.

What we have audited

We have audited the accompanying annual accounts 2019 of Stichting Women Win, Amsterdam.

The annual accounts comprise:

- the balance sheet as at 31 December 2019;
- the income statement for the year then ended; and
- the notes, comprising the accounting policies and other explanatory information.

The financial reporting framework applied in the preparation of the annual accounts is the Guideline for annual reporting 650 'Charity organisations' of the Dutch Accounting Standards Board.

The basis for our opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Dutch law, including the Dutch Standards on Auditing. We have further described our responsibilities under those standards in the section 'Our responsibilities for the audit of the annual accounts' of our report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Independence

We are independent of Stichting Women Win in accordance with the 'Verordening inzake de onafhankelijkheid van accountants bij assuranceopdrachten' (ViO, Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants, a regulation with respect to independence) and other relevant independence requirements in the Netherlands. Furthermore, we have complied with the 'Verordening gedrags- en beroepsregels accountants' (VGBA, Dutch Code of Ethics).

Emphasis of matter - uncertainty related to the effects of the coronavirus (COVID-19)

We draw attention to 'subsequent events after balance sheet date' in the annual accounts in which the executive director has described the possible impact and consequences of the coronavirus (COVID-19) on the foundation and the environment in which the foundation operates as well as the measures taken and planned to deal with these events or circumstances. This note also indicates that uncertainties remain and that currently it is not reasonably possible to estimate the future impact. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Report on the other information included in the annual report

In addition to the annual accounts and our auditor's report thereon, the annual report contains other information that consists of:

- the directors' report;
- other information;
- appendix: budget 2020;
- our ecosystem.

Based on the procedures performed as set out below, we conclude that the other information: is consistent with the annual accounts and does not contain material misstatements; contains the information that is required by the Guideline for annual reporting 650 'Charity organisations' of the Dutch Accounting Standards Board.

We have read the other information. Based on our knowledge and understanding obtained in our audit of the annual accounts or otherwise, we have considered whether the other information contains material misstatements.

By performing our procedures, we comply with the requirements of the Dutch Standard 720. The scope of such procedures was substantially less than the scope of those performed in our audit of the annual accounts.

The executive director is responsible for the preparation of the other information, including the directors' report pursuant to the Guideline for annual reporting 650 'Charity organisations' of the Dutch Accounting Standards Board.

Responsibilities for the annual accounts and the audit Responsibilities of the executive director and the board of directors for the annual accounts

The executive director is responsible for:

- for

Stichting Women Win - 5TPMH23MHJK2-683895967-23

the preparation and fair presentation of the annual accounts in accordance with the Guideline for annual reporting 650 'Charity organisations' of the Dutch Accounting Standards Board; and such internal control as the executive director determines is necessary to enable the preparation of the annual accounts that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

As part of the preparation of the annual accounts, the executive director is responsible for assessing the foundation's ability to continue as a going concern. Based on the financial reporting framework mentioned, the executive director should prepare the annual accounts using the going-concern basis of accounting unless the executive director either intends to liquidate the foundation or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so. The executive director should disclose events and circumstances that may cast significant doubt on the Foundation's ability to continue as a going concern in the annual accounts.

The board of directors is responsible for overseeing the foundation's financial reporting process.

Our responsibilities for the audit of the annual accounts

Our responsibility is to plan and perform an audit engagement in a manner that allows us to obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence to provide a basis for our opinion. Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the annual accounts as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high but not absolute level of assurance, which makes it possible that we may not detect all material misstatements. Misstatements may arise due to fraud or error. They are considered to be material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the annual accounts.

Materiality affects the nature, timing and extent of our audit procedures and the evaluation of the effect of identified misstatements on our opinion.

A more detailed description of our responsibilities is set out in the appendix to our report.

Appendix to our auditor's report on the annual accounts 2019 of Stichting Women Win

In addition to what is included in our auditor's report, we have further set out in this appendix our responsibilities for the audit of the annual accounts and explained what an audit involves.

The auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the annual accounts

We have exercised professional judgement and have maintained professional scepticism throughout the audit in accordance with Dutch Standards on Auditing, ethical requirements and independence requirements. Our audit consisted, among other things of the following:

- resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the intentional override of internal control.
- Obtaining an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit opinion on the effectiveness of the foundation's internal control.
- Evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the executive director.
- conditions may cause the foundation to cease to continue as a going concern.
- and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with the board of directors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Identifying and assessing the risks of material misstatement of the annual accounts, whether due to fraud or error, designing and performing audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtaining audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one uncertainty exists related to events and/or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the foundation's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the annual accounts or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report and are made in the context of our opinion on the annual accounts as a whole.
